

AIRPORT AT THREE FORKS - PROGREBA FIELD

Department Overview

The Three Forks Airport (Progreba Field) was named after a Korean War aviator from the Three Forks area. The Three Forks airport board administers the day-to-day activity of the airport. The county commission appoints the board and signs all contracts.

The field is used primarily for general aviation with no passenger service offered. Funding for this activity is generated from a .14 mill levy on all property in Gallatin County.

The FY 09 Budget includes the construction of a perimeter fence for security and safety of the aviation public. The work will be paid from an FAA the other from State FAA and from the revenue generated by the County Mill levy. The FAA has already approved a grant for the installation of a animal control fence.
